

Chocolate Peanut Clusters

My sister, Linda, brought this recipe to our family. Each year we gather in my mother's kitchen to make Christmas cookies, treats and memories, sharing the joy of being in the kitchen with the people we love.

This recipe fits all our requirements; delicious, easy, just a few ingredients and lots of fun to make. And, wow, we make more than a few. In fact, I think it most definitely is a plethora of Chocolate Peanut Clusters. Merry Christmas, enjoy!

Recipe provided by: Linda McCall Glynn and her sister, Sally Barton

Makes: as many as you are up for making, just follow the ratio (more math) and you too can make a plethora to gift to all the loved ones in your life.

Ingredients

- 1 part (12 oz) Bittersweet Chocolate Chips
- 2 parts (24 oz) Butterscotch Chips
- 2 parts (24 oz) Salted Cocktail Peanuts

Directions:

Combine the chocolate and butterscotch chips in a 2 quart microwave-safe mixing bowl. Microwave on power level 5 for 2 minutes, stir and repeat just until melted being careful to not overheat the chips. Stir the peanuts into the melted chocolate mixture.

Drop spoonfuls onto a wax or parchment paper covered cookie sheet, refrigerate until hard and package in a airtight plastic container or bag.

Tip:

I like to wrap them in decorative clear plastic Christmas bags tied with a Christmas ribbon. I gift them to all my friends and am immediately moved from the "Naughty" to the "Nice" list – enjoy!
